

Numerology for July 22, 2009 - 11:11:22:44 Gateway

This is a cosmic high point for the universal year of an 11, which is favorable for large scale networking and community collaboration.

The July 22nd date results in a 22, another Master Number of global unity and effort combined for a higher goal, humanitarian in scope. This is a time to listen to inner guidance for the adjusting and aligning that will balance the earthly concerns with the spiritual ones. It is time to let go of all pre-conceived ideas of what should or shouldn't work. Trust the inherent truth to withstand scrutiny and probe the integrity and motive of all aspects of goal and method.

This date is crowned with a 44, the grand win/win of giving and receiving, unstintingly giving heart, mind, and body to a shared objective.

Great things can be achieved which will be enacted in increments of tasks, building a future with joyful daily accomplishments. Those which are completed over the next few months will assemble into their desired form around September of this year. Make the most of this window, and the results will be tangible evidence before the year is done. There will be much to celebrate in 2009.