

Planet Goddess Sedna

Sedna is also the name given to the newly discovered 10th planet. Sedna is the Canadian-Alaskan Inuit tribe's "Goddess of the Sea". Sedna was discovered by astronomers at the time of the lunar eclipse "Harmonic Convergence" of November 8, 2003. Sedna was at 17 degrees of the sign of Taurus conjuncting the full moon & earth opposite to the Sun in the sign of Scorpio. She was found in "no man's land" outside Pluto's orbit.

Her Birth announcement to the world came on March 15, 2004 when the moon & Chiron came together in the sign of the great cosmic consciousness and watery ocean sign of Pisces.

Her message to the world is about the emergence of the feminine out of victimization by the patriarchy and into a place of being honored as the great Mother of All Living, giver and sustainer of All Life.

The Inuit people's legend of Sedna is that of a motherless child raised by her father. Her father wants her to marry but she refuses all the suitors that come to her. Her father one day says she must marry the next man that comes. A male figure is seen in the distance his face cloaked. When he arrives, Sedna's father says, "I have a beautiful daughter, Sedna, she cooks and sews and will make a wonderful wife. The man takes her away. When he uncloaks himself he is a raven. He takes her to his nest and each day throws meat to her for food.

Sedna is unhappy, sad and lonely. She cries out in pain and her father hears her. Her father comes to rescue her in his kayak. When the Raven spots them in the ocean he attacks the kayak trying to get Sedna back. The ocean becomes rough and stormy. To save himself, the father throws Sedna out of the kayak into the ocean. When she tries to climb back into the kayak, her father cuts her fingers off. They become the whales, dolphins, seal, mammals and fish of the ocean and Sedna sinks to the bottom of the ocean, where she becomes the queen of the sea and is taken care of by all the sea life.

She is honored by the Inuit people as their "Goddess of the Sea" and giver of food and of life. When the ocean is stormy and the Inuit people can not fish or eat they feel someone has upset Sedna by dishonoring women, children, animal & the Earth and they must "comb her hair" pray and make offerings to her so they might eat and live. The planet, Sedna has a 10,500 year very large & eccentric cycle. She is the red planet Sedna/Sedona without the O.

In 1848 at the start of the women's suffrage movement, Sedna was on the cusp of Pisces/Aries, the sign of the ending of a cycle and the beginning of a new cycle. In 1920 the year of emancipation of women, Sedna was at 13 degrees of Aries and stayed in Aries until 1963-66 then she moved into Taurus.

for all people born from late 1800-1966 Sedna is in the sign of aries the great red warrior sign of the great i am that i am. She is now and for many more years in the sign of Taurus, the sign of the earth mother ruled by venus, the goddess of love.

An Inuit prayer to Sedna

hail great sedna
our nourishment, the food basket of the deep bountiful & fierce sea she who is powerful bringer of food and storms
she who commands the fish, seal, walrus, whales & polar bear Sedna of the northern deep
Mother of sea creatures Creatrix who sustains the Inuit she who swims in the icy ocean
She who is guardian of all who honor her
We Cherish, Honor & Give Thanks to You for All Life & Nourishment.
